ONE INJURED IN FIGHT IN S. UNION-ST

Alleged Assailant Held to Grand Jury by Judge Poling

ONE SUSPECT IS RELEASED

Third Person is Held on Intoxication Charges

Robert R. Harper, 36, colored, was held to the grand jury under $1,000 bail Friday morning by Judge Neil R. Poling on a charge of stabbing with intent to kill Samuel Hatchett, colored, at 6 p.m. Thursday during an alleged drunken brawl in front of 107 S. Union-st.

Ed Mines and Van White, the other two detained by police in connection with the affray, were exonerated upon completion of an investigation. Mines denied a charge of intoxication and his trial is set for 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, January 9.

No charge was filed against White. Hatchett was stabbed under the arm and the knife entered his lung, according to police who say his condition is not serious. Unforeseen complications develop the man still recover.

HEARING WAIVED

Harper waived preliminary hearing before Judge Poling and arrangements were made to release him on $1,000 bail. He is to appear before the grand jury which convenes Monday.

On his bed Hatchett blamed Harper for the stabbing, charging that it struck him from behind and with the knife when he went outside of the office. Mines, where it is alleged, a crap game and drink fest had been indulged in for three hours.

Police say the quartet congregated at the office of Ed. Mines, 17 S. Union-st, about 3 p.m. Tuesday and indulged in drinking and a crap game. Coin liquor, they say, was passed around profusely.

During the crap game Harper led Hatchett a har and was induced outside to battle, according to one, who say that White jumped Hatchett's back and Mines grabbed him in the office.

Hatchett and Harper insisted on fighting it out and Hatchett, it is said, gave Mines his knife to hold while he and Harper settled their dispute with their bare knuckles.

TABBED IN BACK

Hatchett went out in front of the building Mines and White followed him. Harper was the last out of the building and, according to Hatchett's own story, jumped him in the back and Mines grabbed him in the office.

Hatchett and Harper insisted on fighting it out and Hatchett, it is said, gave Mines his knife to hold while he and Harper settled their dispute with their bare knuckles.

JOINT FUNERAL PLANNED FOR VICTIMS OF ACCIDENT

Joint funeral services will be held here Saturday for the four victims of Wednesday's grade crossing accident at Huntlyville.

Mrs. McGee reported the stabbing to police and Detectives Gladney and Hargrave were detained on the scene. Van White was first arrested at 1625 W. Spring-st.

He told the argument at Ed. Mines over the crap game but denied seeing a knife or knife play.

Mines was found asleep in a chair at 1301 W. Spring-st, and police claim Harper lay dead drunk in the front of Mines' feet. Mines refused to accompany police to headquarters and a call for aid was passed to Sergeant McCoy, according to police announcement.

McCoy, however, changed his tactics and submitted to confinement in city jail.

Mines visited Friday after arraignment that when the trouble had occurred both men out of a place of business and that he had been outside but didn't see his office.

"I was outside but I didn't see knife play," Mines said.

SINKING, SAYS FLASH FROM ONE VESSEL

Distress Signals Received at San Francisco and Seattle

NINE DROWNED IN ATLANTIC

Swept from Boat in Storm off New York

SAN FRANCISCO — (Associated Press) — Each with a broken steering gear, the Japanese steel freighter Kyosei Maru, 3,728 net tons, and the Harold Dollar, 2,825 net tons, of the Dollar Steamship Line, are drifting in a storm raging in the mid-Pacific, according to radiograms to the Federal Telegraph Co. early today from the steamship President Cleveland. Neither carries passengers.

The Japanese vessel gave her position as latitude 49°41' north and longitude 171°15' east. The Harold Dollar is in the same vicinity.

The liner Empress of Russia is rushing to the assistance of the Kyosei Maru.

SHIP CALLS FOR HELP

SEATTLE, Washn. — (Associated Press) — A message reporting the sending vessel to be sinking but giving no clue to the identity of the vessel was picked up by the Seattle Harbor Radio station today. The message was believed to have come from the Kyosei Maru or the steamship Harold Dollar.

The Kyosei and the Dollar were said to be in about same position, each in the Pacific ocean about 1,000 miles off the coast of Washington and each to be in distress. The message caught by the harbor radio station follows:

"Leaking badly, rudder chain broken. Sinking condition. In immediate need of help. Empress of Russia 200 miles away, longitude 104°10' east."

NINE DROWNED

BABYLON, N. Y. — (Associated Press) — As the Atlantic off Fire Island continued to subside today from the storms which raged all of yesterday, coast guardmen cruised about looking for the bodies of nine men who went down last night. Five of the nine were of a rescue party and the other four were shipwrecked men the rescuers had braved the storm to save.

The rescuers went out last night to search for the Electra, a speed boat, which had left Rockaway Wednesday in command of C. C. Eccleston of Bay Shore.

Eccleston had John Virginier and a man named Williams as companions. The Electra struck on a shoal of the Fire Island bar about a mile off shore on Wednesday night, as the storm came up.

The trio tried to get off the shoal before the waves pounded the boat to pieces, but the seas incapacitated the ignition system and stalled the engine.

STORM CHALLENGED

They kept afloat all of Wednesday night by bailing the boat but yesterday fell exhausted. In the meantime Mrs. Eccleston's fears for her husband's safety caused the searching party of seven men, headed by Arnold Mayne of Babylon, to launch the Sid, a powerboat and challenge the storm.

They found Eccleston and his companions unconscious in the Electra, with the seas breaking over them. They got the trio aboard the Sid and then started to the rescue of a fishing smack they had sighted in distress a mile away. By dangerous and dexterous work four men were taken off the smack.

Coast guardmen braved the high running seas all night searching for the bodies but they saw only life preserver, gloves and jackets floating in the water.

His condition is reported as grave.

FOURTH SHRINE OF TOMB OPENED

Sarcophagus of Tut, Hidden 3,000 Years, Revealed

LUXOR, Egypt — (Associated Press) — The sarcophagus of Tutankhamun has been brought to light after remaining hidden for more than 3,000 years in the tomb of the Pharaoh in the Valley of the Kings.

The long-sought-for treasure of antiquity, carved from pinkish granite, probably Assuan stone, lies within the fourth casket of blazing gold — a casket even more brilliant than the other shrines enclosing the sarcophagus, its doors covered with cartouches of the dead pharaoh, surrounding a figure of the monarch.

The sarcophagus is elaborately carved and there is reason to believe it will prove to be of even greater artistic value than the pink sarcophagus of Harmhab, of the famous alabaster coffin of Seti I in the Soane museum in London.

Following up yesterday's discovery of the fourth casket the search was proceeded with, and in the presence of Professor Percy E. Newberry, the noted Egyptologist, and the other members of his staff, Howard Carter in charge of the excavation unbolted the doors of the fourth shrine, disclosing the sarcophagus and finally establishing the fact that the last resting place of Tutankhamun had really been discovered.

EXPLOSION TOLL PASSES 40

Many Bodies Still in Ruins of Illinois Plant

THREE BUILDINGS WRECKED

Recovery of Dead is Delayed by Raging Flames

PEKIN, Ill.—Associated Press—More than a score of bodies are buried in the ruins of part of the plant of the Corn Products Co. here, where an explosion early yesterday morning caused the death of 41 persons of 40 employed, and 120 are injured to 28 more. Rescuers, working in the roof-covered debris of the wrecked buildings, are in constant danger from tottering walls, and it may take days to recover all the bodies.

One building of the $20,000,000 plant collapsed and two adjoining buildings were partly wrecked as it swept by fire, when and was being fought, early today. Streams of water directed at the burning mass covered them with a thick sheet of ice, which adds to the difficulties of the searchers.

A further check is being made to identify the men missing from their homes. Most of the bodies when recovered are expected to be unrecognizable.

Superintendent H. B. Lawton of the company said it would be impossible to definitely fix the number of the dead until all the bodies were recovered, as to check is made of the men leaving the plant until after the blast.

EXPLANATIONS OFFERED

Several explanations of the explosion are offered. A spark from a drive wheel igniting dust from steel was the cause in the opinion of R. S. Sherwin, chief chemist for the company. John G. Gamber, state fire marshal, attributed it to an explosion of accumulated dust similar to recent explosions in plants of the same company at Argo, Ill., and Des Moines, Iowa.

Every precaution had been taken, Superintendent Lawton said. Men constantly were employed in sweeping out the dust, but there was no mechanical means for drawing it out of the work rooms. Officials of the company said the buildings had been inspected frequently and pronounced safe. The explosion occurred in the packing plant, where the manufactured starch was bagged, they believe.

Most of these injured were employed in the buildings partly wrecked.

Nearly all the dead were Americans and at least 25 of them had families according to the Red Cross. The plant, which covers 20 acres, employed 750 men in three shifts.

TURTLES OF AUSTRALIA HEADED FOR SOUP KETTLE

SYDNEY, N. S. W.—A dark day has dawned for the thousands of turtles that waddle about the beaches of the northwest coast of Australia. At Rockingham a factory has been built to convert them into soup and sundry other table delicacies.

The supply of turtles is said to be inexhaustible. Brought alive to the factory, they are beguiled into a false sense of security by finding themselves again in their native element, the sea. The factory has a sea frontage, and there a large pool has been enclosed. In this they swim lazily. In ignorance of the steaming pots awaiting them a couple of hundred yards away.

The factory has been established by a Glasgow firm under the name of Chelonia, Ltd. Chelonia is the Latin name for turtle.

SENATOR ASKS AID FOR ALASKAN FARMERS

ANCHORAGE, Alaska.—Territorial Senator M. D. Snodgrass has promised to try to talk a supposed loan of $500,000 annually in Alaska's treasury chest. The item is said to be represented in foodstuffs by a grain and mill feed now shipped into the Alaska railroad belt from the United States.

Senator Snodgrass said recently that he would like to see congress consider a bill that would enable Alaskan farmers to get on their feet and begin living from the ground some of the substances imported. He added: "When the late President Harding advised the development of oil industry in Alaska, he doubtless had in view the question of agriculture. There was enough expended in foodstuffs during the construction of the Alaskan railroad to have paid a thousand and farms in the recovered debris of the wrecked buildings are in constant danger from tottering walls, and it may take days to recover all the bodies."

The promoters of separate statehood for South Alaska were inspired, according to numerous formal publications, by the desire to set off from the second judicial division, west western and northern Alaska, with Nome as its best known point, and the fourth division, interior Alaska with Fairbanks, often called the Chicago of the north, as its metropolis.

The two memorials to congress stand the request of the Panhandle to be formed into the territory of South Alaska and that "intimation that the people residing there desire that the drainage area of Prince William Sound and Copper River should be incorporated with the first division" had been received. One of the memorials set forth that "the people of southeastern Alaska would welcome inclusion in the separate territory for which they pray of an drainage area of Prince William Sound and Copper River and the territory east thereof or any part of it if it be the desire of the people thereof or of congress."

Early agitation for a separate state for South Alaska began last summer when the late President Harding, on his return to Seattle, said in his last address, six days before his death: "Alaska is destined the Panhandle and a large block of land for ultimate statehood. In the connecting southeastern part as few years we can well set off a state."

New Lamp Burns

94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 19 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor G. M. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency and without experience or money make $750 to $500 per month.

The proposed territory or state, for whose formation the convention prepared two memorials to congress and named a suggested organic act, would include all the first judicial division of Alaska in its present territory of 115,000 square miles.

WINS HONORS BY LOUD SNORES

Account of China's President's Rise is Given

HIS ADVANCEMENT RAPID

Fantastic Story is Made Public at Shanghai

SHANGHAI, China.—As related (Press)—With the accession of Tsao Kun to the presidency of China, the usual crop of fantastic stories purporting to account for the rise of any notable figure has appeared, not the most fantastic being one obtained from native sources in Tsao's own province of China.

According to this account, Tsao's enlistment and subsequent rapid advancement as a soldier in the armies of the old Manchu dynasty would have been impossible but for his sonorous snores.

Tsao, originally, was a cloth merchant's apprentice, having been put in that service by a father noted for his stern disposition, the story goes. Becoming proficient, he was provided with a barrow and stock of goods whereby to make rounds among prospective buyers and chattered keenly with the housewives of neighboring villages. He was discontented with this peasant occupation, however, and sought solace for the pangs it caused his adventurous spirit by engaging in escapades which failed to find his father's approval.

CAST ADRIET

The parent cast young Tsao adrift and the lad, bethinking himself of a career which would supply his demand for activity and color, sought to enlist at a military camp not many miles from his home. He was rejected because of inability to provide a proper guarantor. Altho despondent, he was determined not to return to his family and sheltered himself in a haystack, where he presently fell asleep.

An officer from the camp, strolling thru the vicinity, heard the lusty evidences of Tsao's slumber and roused him unmercifully. In response to the officer's inquiry as to why such a robust young man should be sleeping the day away, Tsao told his story of eviction from home and rejection by the recruiting officials.

The officer became interested, used influence to obtain the waiver of the necessary guarantor in Tsao's place, and the youth enlisted. His rapid grasp of military matters impressed his superiors and a sensational military career, culminating in Tsao's advancement to the highest ranks and elevation to the presidency, followed.

ARMED GUARDS PROTECT TRILLIONS IN PAPER MONEY

BERLIN.—Banks in Berlin are having as much difficulty these days as are bakers in keeping their hungry customers satisfied. All day long their telephones bring in insistent demands for paper money. "Hamburg must have twenty thousand trillion tomorrow," is a typical message.

The money is all distributed from the Reichsbank, irrespective of where it may be printed. Small wagons constructed like iron cages travel on rails thru the building and carry the money, the actual distribution of which is directed from one room. It is packed in large bags, carefully sealed. Two thousand consignments leave the Reichsbank daily.

While in the bank building the paper is stored in a heavily armored cellar which is practically an underground town, with scores of avenues and passages. This cellar is cluttered up with money of such small denominations that it was never issued because of its slight value.

REPORTS OF BREAKING DOWN OF COOLIDGE ARE PROVEN GROUNLESS BY PERSONAL OBSERVATION

Physical Improvement in President is Noted Since Becoming Chief Executive

(By HARRY B. HUNT)

WASHINGTON.—(Special)—Five months in the White House have worked a noticeable change in Calvin Coolidge.

The Coolidge of Jan. 3, 1924, is different from the Coolidge of Aug. 3, 1923. Both physically and temperamentally he is in better shape than he is in his job today than he was when, between bedtime and breakfast, he was called upon to assume the office of chief executive.

Recent advices out of Washington that "the president is beginning to look tired," that "the strain of the office is rapidly telling upon him" are not borne out by personal observation and study of the man or knowledge of his actual present condition.

Instead of being "worn down," the president has actually put on a few pounds in the last couple months. His chin is fuller. The lines between nostrils and the corners of his mouth are less deeply graven. A smoothing out of the wrinkles at the corners of his eyes indicates a relaxation of the tension under which he took up his duties as president. His bearing is more erect and confident.

PSYCHOLOGICAL CHANGE APPARENT

The real change in Coolidge, however, is not one that can be pictured by physical description. It is revealed rather by his manner, his speech, his more certain approach to the matters under discussion.

The Coolidge of August, 1923, took himself to be on uncertain foot.

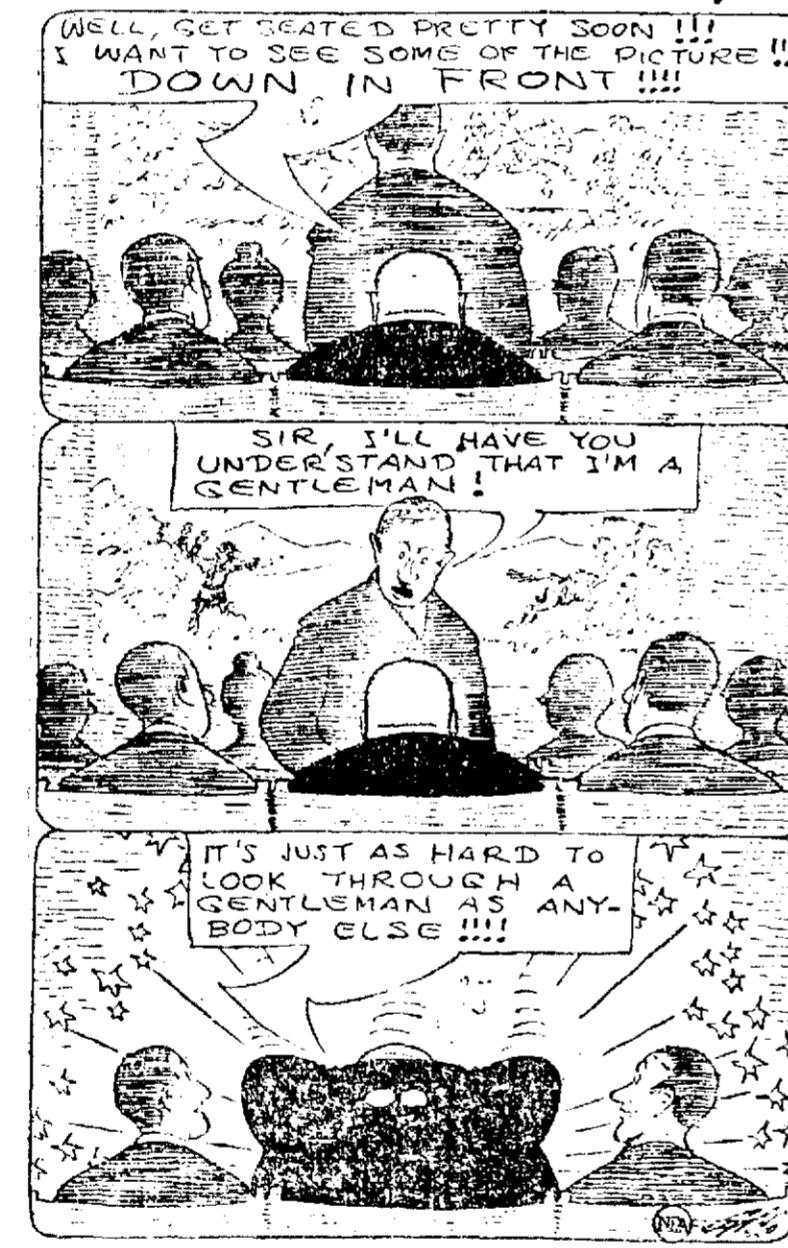

The Coolidge of January, 1924, has found firm ground and is sure of himself.

The tension of his first two months in the White House undoubtedly told on the president. He had been jolted overnight into a position of supreme trust and an fancy drill, and the girls' clubs of Lima and Allen review will give a physical culture exercise.

COMPARE THESE TWO PICTURES

After five months in the White House President Coolidge has suffered no apparent breakdown, as the two contrast pictures above attest. Left: Shows him as he looked upon taking office. Right: As he is today—physically stronger and healthier man.

The country generally came to feel that at least the nation was facing no immediate disaster because of the elevation to the presidency. His coming to the office of the president came a gradual easing of the strain under which he labored. The tenseness about his mouth relaxed. The drawn pucker about his brows loosened. His eyes lost their look of worry.

Today there is a sense of sureness about the president that was wholly lacking in the first month of his incumbency. He has found himself in his job, and his whole bearing reflects it. He is more relaxed. Smiles are no longer strained. He even cracks a smile. New England joke occasionally.

As a matter of fact, the continuing labors of the presidency are much less wearing on a man than Coolidge's training and habits than they were on a man like President Harding. Harding was not a student. He had never been trained in a confining routine. Deck work was to him the most monotonous and wearying drudgery.

As a student, lawyer, mayor, governor, presiding officer of the Senate, Coolidge came to the presidency thoroughly assimilated for the continuing routine of the office. In it he finds it far less irksome, less depressing and wearing on his vitality than the deadly monotony of presiding over Senatorial sessions. He craves and thrives not physical so much as mental action, and he's getting that, as president, in much larger doses than he ever did as presiding officer of the Senate. Physically, a brisk walk four or five mornings a week, sun deep-breathing exercises when the day's work is over and an occasional cruise down the Potomac in the Mayflower for additional ozone, keep him feeling quite fit.

PREPARED FOR BIG FIGHT

Coolidge never will look bushy as President Harding did. He is naturally slight, almost scrawny, with the rather raw-boned physiognomy typical to Vermont country folk. His skin is of that peculiar thin, colorless texture that often accompanies his brand of sandy red hair—a skin which does not tan, but holds little color and always has a pallor as of sickness and that breaks easily, on face and hands, into innumerable little crinkly lines.

The test of Coolidge's physical stamina, of course, will come with in the next 10 months. With Congressional battle and a presidential election fight for renomination coming the time to June 15, and a possible campaign as standard bearers of the G. O. P. running thru to November, if Coolidge stands the pace that long there should be little fear for him, physically, thru the next four years. That will be.

Facing this strenuous year, Coolidge is in better trim for the physical exertions of the race than the dexter gentlemen of staid arm and greater girth who will oppose him.

These wiry red-heads have remarkable staying qualities, as Coolidge has quite decided to stay. (Copyright, 1924.)

DANGER TO FARM INTERESTS SEEN

Declared to be Threatened by Immigration Policy

CHICAGO.—(Associated Press)—Restricted immigration is causing the development of new agricultural regions, which in a few years will compete sharply with American agriculture, in the opinion of James R. Howard, president of the National Transportation Institute.

Expressing this opinion at the recent convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Howard said:

"Development of new agricultural regions to feed the world is resulting from our policy of restricted immigration. There is little likelihood that this policy will be changed. So far as the farmer is concerned the policy shall be adhered to. But this closing of our doors means that the congested populations of Europe must seek other asylums. Already promotional settlement programs are under way in various South American nations as well as in Canada, Australia and Africa. These people crowded out of Europe and into new lands must enter agriculture because agriculture always precedes industry in the building of any new country. There is no doubt that new fields of competition for the American farmer are developing.

"New routes

These settlements mean the establishment of industrial trade routes and these routes, unless the ships are under our flag, cannot be expected to be other than favorable to the new settlements and will have a most vital influence upon the American agriculture of the next decade.

"If America is to stay in the world market and produce a surplus of agricultural products, ships are as much a part of the farm equipment as plows or wagons. Too few farmers realize this. The government still owns something like a thousand good steel ships, operated at a heavy deficit of which the farmers are paying their share. We cannot afford to allow these ships to go out from under our flag while we are facing a fight to keep both trade routes and markets."

TED HEARS DUCK WINTER WARNING

"Prepare for winter, real winter, from now on," Ted warned Friday as he manipulated his gasoline ash can among the snow drifts in American-tp. The reason for his prediction is that S. C. Biddle told him he saw a big flock of wild geese flying to south—west over the Lima Gas Co. tank on E. Elm st. Thursday night. They were well trained, flew in perfect formation in a warm climate, Biddle told Ted. "That means the weather will be generally fair and continued cold Friday and Saturday. Better lay in supply of coal," Ted advised.

GOOD FEELING ERA HITS INDUSTRY

Policy Changes in Many Basic Lines of Work in U. S.

HELP TO PROSPERITY SEEN

Men and Management in Closer Accord. Survey Shows

HAROLD BURGUNDY, United Press: The labor picture in a number of basic industries is changing.

A series of industrial improvements, obtained by the United Press, indicates that business management, in many instances, is reaching a better understanding of the factors known in the past.

This condition is reflected to a degree in the influence on the Charters of the ports in 1924.

The "good relations" which seems to be at hand in industry for three explorations. They are:

1—The elimination of the eight-hour day, not only in the steel and refractory industry.

2—Investing opportunities offered on new, stimulating interest in the management and participation of the profits.

3—The shortage of skilled labor creating keen competition among employers for continued services of workers, thereby reducing labor turnover.

The effect of this condition has been noted generally in the labor situation in Pennsylvania. There is very little unemployment, and what there is has been classed a "floating" demand for common labor.

having fallen off, this element having been removed.

INDUSTRY STABILIZED

The gradual stabilization has been in progress for a month in building, construction, steel and industry, and the portion of coal mining is making rapid progress to stabilize.

The oil situation, on the other hand, is still in progress, and the oil price is down.

As a result of the depression, the oil industry is dependent upon the cost of oil, which was one of the major industries with labor in the oil industry.

The transportation companies, especially the Pennsylvania railroad, in their recent layoff revealed a decline in Pennsylvania today than in the previous year.

It was regarded as a definite move toward stabilization of the Commonwealth.

BETTER TYPE OF MEN

The eight-hour day in the steel industry, according to reliable reports, has attracted the better type of men.

Many of those who were laid off will never return, while some will come back to find a totally different attitude on the part of the management.

MABEL NORMAND OPERATED ON.

Movie Actress Put Under Knife
for Appendicitis

SHOOTING STILL UNSOLVED

Another Woman is Questioned
by Investigators

LOS ANGELES — (United Press) — Confession of Horace A. Greer, chauffeur, who shot Courtland S. Dines, today involved another woman in the mystery surrounding the assault which took place while the gas oil man was entertaining Miss Purviance and Mabel Normand, Greer's employer.

Detectives interrogated Mrs. Edna Burns, companion of Miss Normand, following Greer's statement that as he was leaving for Dines' apartment, Mrs. Burns saw him take the revolver with which the shooting was done and admonished him to "be careful."

Authorities wished to know if Miss Normand's companion could throw any light upon the chauffeur's crime in assaulting Dines, who has been in the Good Samaritan Hospital since New Year's night with a bullet wound in the chest.

Greer told the police Mrs. Burns frequently had told him Miss Normand had "too many bad associates."

Mrs. Burns might have unwittingly influenced the chauffeur to imitate himself Miss Normand's protector, the police said.

Greer's version of the shooting, which took place in Dines' bungalow court apartment Tuesday night was that he shot the gas man when the latter attempted to interfere with Miss Normand's departure.

The petite screen star was herself in the good Samaritan Hospital today, "recovering nicely" following an operation for appendicitis, performed Thursday.

Physicians said it will be a week before either Miss Normand or Dines will be able to receive visitors.

MARKET FILMS BARRED

MEMPHIS — (Associated Press) — John M. Dean, chairman of the Memphis board of motion picture censors, states that films in which Mabel Normand appears will be barred here permanently as a result of the connection of her name with the shooting Tuesday night of Courtland S. Dines.

The ban, Dean said, will be ordered at the next regular meeting of the board. The chairman said other members of the board were assured that the Normand films would "have a disastrous effect upon the youth of the community."

Exhibition of films in which Edna Purviance appears will be suspended until the Dines case is cleared up," Mr. Dean stated.

PAN ON FILMS SOUGHT

TOPEKA, KAN., — (Associated Press) — The Kansas Motion Picture censor board has been requested by Attorney General C. B. Griffith to bar all films in which Mabel Normand appears.

The attorney general in a letter to the board, stated that his action was taken as a result of the shooting of Courtland S. Dines, at Los Angeles, by Miss Normand's chauffeur and also mention of her name in connection with the case of William Desmond Taylor, who was slain at Los Angeles two years ago.

MAN, GIRL, FACING MURDER TRIAL

Widower and Sweetheart Held for Slaying of Wife

PRINCIPALS ALL WEALTHY

Teacher-Soul Mate. 19. Arrested Before Her Class

MOUND CITY, Ky.—(UPI)—The Press—A widow and a girl, a girl and a widow, are the principals in the two cases of murder that are to go to trial in the Federal Court at Cincinnati on Feb. 11. The widow, Arlene Scott, is accused of the killing of her husband, John Scott, in Cincinnati on Feb. 11, 1931.

It will be the second trial for the widow, as she was originally charged with the killing of her husband throughout the following year. On May 1, 1932, she was found guilty of the killing of her husband, and was sentenced to 10 years in the federal penitentiary. She was then released on joint trial of her and her husband, John Scott.

Scott was a widower, aged 34, with two children, a son and a daughter, in the community at the time of the killing of John Scott.

ALL ARE WEALTHY—All of the principals in the two cases are descendants of early settlers of Lincoln. They are members of the leading and wealthy Farmer family. When the murdered woman, then Mrs. Holt, married John Scott in 1911, the man was considered an attractive one, at that time two influential families.

Scott was given sufficient money by his parents to start a men's clothing business in L cygne. In 1911, Arlene Scott, a daughter of Mr. Scott's favorite sister, came to L cygne to make her home with her aunt and attend high school. At that time Arlene was 15. She lived with Mrs. Scott during the school year. Altho of the same name, she was of no blood relationship to John Scott.

Last May, when Arlene had completed her high school term, she left L cygne and went to Pittsburgh, Pa., to attend normal school. A month later Mrs. Scott was shot to death. She and her husband had just returned to their home from attending a "tent" show which was appearing in the little village. It was shortly before midnight a few minutes before they had left a Physical Health means Beauty!

HEALTH and beauty go hand in hand. Where the system is run down—the face drawn and sagged—the body limp and lifeless—beauty is missing. Looks of pity bespeak those that might have been gazed at admiration.

Restore your health and beauty will take care of herself. S S—the rich blood builder—rekindles the spark of health and lights the blinks of beauty by building red blood cells. The nerve power of your system finds life in these very blood cells. Build more red blood cells and your nerve power will increase. S S builds them. Rich blood will tingle through your system. That lost charm will return. Your entire system will be repaired. You will be ready to cope with the impurities and blemishes that handicap beauty.

As physical health means beauty so, too, does S S mean beauty. For S S means systems that are free from impurities—pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, clogged throat, etc. S S and good health go hand in hand.

S S is made of pure vegetable ingredients. It is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

group of friends at a tea crowded in the supper room that the man of the investigation had been committed by robbers. Scott was closely watched and he was unable to agree with the jury. The jury at his first trial was unable to agree. Friends of Mrs. Scott then called on Charles E. Griffith, attorney general for Kanawha, W. Va., to represent Scott. He was called in to carry on the investigation. When he was called in, he asked him to take charge of the prosecution. After a few days investigation, the attorney general ordered the arrest of Arlene Scott. She was taken into custody by Sheriff A. J. Wellington. He placed her under guard and registered a man and arrest as she stood before her little window. Two empty chairs were left in the room. A few days later with diagrams on a blackboard the two were examined with the result that it was not satisfied with the result. Scott was arrested on a charge of being a "triangle."

Two shots rang out. Scott rushed out of the room. A fund of $1,200 was raised by friends of the family to carry on the investigation. When he was called in, he asked him to take charge of the prosecution.

RISING WATERS AT DANGER POINT

Many Homes Along the Ohio River Are Flooded

PEOPLE WARNED OF PERIL

Railway Traffic is Halted by Landslides

PITTSBURG (United Press) -- Flood waters of Ohio, Monongahela and Allegheny rivers inundated larger stage than in mid-1913. Homes of families along the river lowlands of McKees Rocks, Monongahela and the north end.

A slide 100 feet in height at the Front Bridge, it is the highest since the floods of 1913. The river is at rising at a rate of seven inches an hour and the water is but one-half predictor a rise of 9 feet by noon to day.

The highest in 1913 was 64.6 feet.

RAIL TRAFFIC HALTED

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) -- Rivers in many points in this state were near flood stage today and reports from eastern Kentucky were that landslides in some portions of the mountains were causing delays to railroad traffic following recent heavy rains.

The Ohio river will reach flood stage, 55 feet, here today, it was forecast, and residents in some of the low sections were said to have been warned to be prepared to move on short notice.

Washing out of the city reservoir was responsible for some shortages of fresh water in Mt. Sterling. The Kentucky river was reported to be running high a mile and one-half wide at some points and with locks near Valley View and Bonneville under several feet of water.

Reports received here last night were that small landslides along the track of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad in Montgomery co. were causing delays to traffic. In Lee county near Athol, recent report of a heavy landslide fresh slides were said to have hampered the work of repairing permanent damage caused by the earlier slide and to have so disrupted train schedules that traffic was moving ten hours behind time.

MAY VALLEY STATION

CINCINNATI (UPI) -- An unexpected cold wave which swept Cincinnati last night and sent the mercury down to approximately ten degrees above zero prevented a threatened serious flood that might have resulted in thousands of dollars worth of property damage according to W. L. Desley, United States weather forecaster.

The Ohio river at this point early today registered approximately 50 feet (flood stage) and it was only the cessation of the heavy rains of the past several days followed by the cold snap that prevented the stream from rising to 60 feet, the weather man said.

Desley stated last night he expected the river to reach its crest tomorrow at between 5 and 7 feet.

Offices of railroads entering the Central Union station have made preparations to vacate if the rise exceeds 53 feet at which point back water floods the "ditch" or approach to the station. Trains will be operated from outlaying depots in event it becomes necessary to abandon the main terminal.

Several Kentucky cities will not suffer unless the river reaches 100 feet, rivermen said.

PARIS FLOOD CHECKED

PARIS (United Press) -- A sudden cold wave, absence of rain for 24 hours and the subsidence of several affluents of the Seine, were believed to have checked the Paris flood just as a general disaster seemed imminent.

The steady rise of the river which had reached the top of the quai d'Orsay yesterday this morning continued at a slower rate and was expected to last until Sunday when no further rains occur the water may subside.

A flood of 100 feet was noted at Austerlitz Bridge at noon.

FARM PROSPECTS HERE BRIGHT

County Agent Optimistic at Annual Bureau Meeting

924 PROGRAM PRESENTED

Ridge Reports 1923 as Being Unusually Successful

"The outlook for the extension program of the Allen-co farm bureau is exceptionally bright," said Hugh Ridge, county agent, in the annual meeting of that body in the Memorial Hall on Friday.

"The demand for marketing work is slackening somewhat," he stated, as the farmers begin to realize that marketing begins with production, and that the individual farmer's big first gain will be made by cutting production costs.

"I believe the extension service will perform a valuable service to agriculture and the world by pointing the way in the three fundamentals to successful agriculture—economic production, economical marketing and economical buying."

PROGRAM FOR 1924

The program for 1924 was worked out with the three fundamentals in mind, he said. The program follows:

Live Stock—Site surveys by townships and livestock shipping meetings.

Hogs—Production demonstration events, ton litter projects, capsule presentations and boys' and girls'

pig clubs.

Beef—Production demonstration records, dairy feeding schools and production demonstration records, calf clubs and continued T. B. test of cattle.

Sheep—Wool pool.

Poultry—Demonstration record flocks, poultry and egg marketing, boys' and girls' poultry club.

Crops—Sweet clover project, ten-acre corn contest, ten acre wheat contest, standardization of wheat and oats, cost account records of crops, and soy beans.

Soil—Long-time soil demonstrations, limestone demonstration, lime fertilizer schools.

Women's activities—Home management, girls' clubs in reference to food and clothing, farm management records.

REPORT FOR 1923

A remarkably successful year was experienced by the Allen-co bureau, according to Ridge's report for 1923.

Seventy-one demonstration and 96 other meetings were held. Sixteen limestone demonstrations resulting in the use of 320 tons of limestone in the county, were held, with a total attendance of more than 5000 men.

The use of certified oats in the county was increased by 400 bushels, for seed. Practically all the men using it declared the added increase justified the expense.

It was learned the main sources of income from Allen-co farms were the sale of hogs, dairy products; poultry, wheat, beef, sheep and wool, and feedable crops, about in the order named.

Education in the use of higher grade fertilizer has resulted in the practical elimination of the use of the cheaper grades of that substance; better results more than justify making the change from the cheaper to the best grades, the report said.

SOY BEANS BOOSTED

Soy beans were substituted as a crop where clover had failed in many cases, and the crop was large and profitable, it was said. Altho the soy bean is considered superior to oats as a money-making crop, the local bureau is not encouraging the substitution of the crop for oats until a better market is assured for it, as glutting the market with beans would lower the price and raise that of oats.

An early maturing variety of corn was secured for the Allen-co members of the bureau in several instances, as most of the farmers in the vicinity have been found to be using a kind which does not ripen until late, thus depriving them of the benefit of a full crop. The general use of the early maturing kind will be advocated this year.

Trumbull wheat, planted on 3000 acres in 1922, was found to be averaging better yield than other brands by about two bushels per acre, and the acreage was doubled in 1923.

AREA TESTED DISTRICT

Plans to have every head of cattle in Allen-co tested for tuberculosis and in that manner make this what is known as an area tested district, were well developed last year. In the area tested districts, the cattle are said to bring a higher price from the packers.

Poultry demonstration work has been carried on by 16 men in the county. Figures show that the income per hen above feed costs in the flocks varied from $1.85 to $3.75. The feed cost per dozen eggs ran from 9.7 to 25 cents. The culling campaign is to show the poultry raisers the advantage of having disease-free flocks. One poultry house raising demonstration was put on for the benefit of the fanciers.

Livestock to the value of $231,228.47 was marketed last year, thru the County Livestock Shipping Association. This is a substantial growth over the previous year. Forty thousand pounds of wool, or almost half the entire clip of the county, was marketed thru this organization.

INFANT BURIED THURSDAY

COLUMBUS GROVE—Funeral services were held Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benroth for their grandchild, the three-weeks-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Benroth, residing west of town. Interment was at True cemetery, near Columbus Grove.

Edward J. Allen, former Lima newspaper man, is now with the Cincinnati Enquirer, doing general assignments.

INFANT SON DIES

Infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D.

Shoemaker, of 915 S. Central-av.

died Thursday night at City hospital shortly after birth. Burial took place Friday.

RECTOR WILL NOT BE TRIED

Heresy Case Against Texas Clergyman is Dropped

BISHOP COADJUTOR ACTS

Course Influenced by Views Higher up in Church

WALLAS, Texas, Dec. 22.—(Special Press)—A decision of Bishop Coadjutor Harry T. Moore of the Dallas diocese of the Episcopal church not to permit the case of Rev. Lee W. Heaton, rector of Trinity Church, Fort Worth, charged with heresy, to come to trial, has closed the case in this diocese for the present at least. "The bishop coadjutor has declined to permit this case to come to trial," said an announcement issued after a meeting here yesterday of the standing committee of the diocese.

STATEMENT ISSUED

The statement of Bishop Moore that in view of the fact that Amistar interpretations of the doctrine in question are held, taught and preached by those in this church belonging to a higher order of the ministry than the party charged, I am therefore unwilling to consent to a trial of one of the presbyters of this diocese upon such charges; and the diocese of Dallas is at this matter until opportunity may be given to those in authority to proceed and to point out the course of wisdom and justice in such matters," remained as the final announcement from him today.

The case of Rev. Mr. Heaton came to the attention of Bishop Moore in March, 1922, when charges were referred to him. The rector was alleged to have admitted that he did not feel that belief in the virgin birth of Christ was essential and to have denied that the virgin birth was a fact. The charges were referred by Bishop Moore to the standing committee of the diocese for investigation. The committee last November held that Heaton was subject to trial and referred their decision to the bishop for final approval.

SOULS NOW ARE WASHED IN WHAT ONCE WAS "THE BUCKET OF BLOOD"

Notorious Resort of St. Louis
Converted Into Church

JESSE JAMES WAS PATRON

Battle for Salvation of Men
Replaces Gun Fights

(BY HERBERT LITTLE)

ST. LOUIS -- (United Press) -- The "Bucket of Blood" is empty. Now it is only a scrubbed pool. It used to wash souls, instead of soiling them.

This is the way of saying that the most infamous of the notorious resorts of the days when St. Louis was a wild and woolly western town on the frontier, has been converted into a church mission.

The "Bucket of Blood" in the old steamboat days, was a combination of saloon, gambling house and dance hall. It was the haunt of the "bad bad" men.

Many a sanguinary gun and knife battle was fought in and around the spacious hall in the two-story frame building down near the levee.

Jesse James and his henchmen, the Young Brothers, and other bandits whose names are legendary to the youth of today, shuffled a mean foot on those floors and lifted glasses over the bars of the "Bucket of Blood."

There was a tradition in those days -- during the period starting ten or fifteen years before the Civil War and ending about 1885 -- that when the police received a call to the "Bucket" and the patrol-wagon came back without blood on it -- why, it just hadn't been there!

Gangsters and Gamblers, however, he avers, were not alone. There were free-spending steamboat men in white linen suits and flowing black ties -- ah, they were the aristocrats! -- and the blue-bloods in high hats and frock coats. There were the booted and spurred cowboys, straight from the range, come to the city for a "good time" with a year's pay!

The time-honored trilogy of dissipation, "wine, women and song," were furnished, together or separately.

The orchestra for dancing was placed on a little balcony high above the floor, so that distinguished patrons who didn't like the music would be less likely to dis-

Twice Their Natural Size; Lady
Says the Plant Juice Gave Her Relief

LIKE A NEW PERSON NOW

"Your Plant Juice has done both my husband and I a world of good and we can conscientiously recommend it to the public as a splendid medicine," said Mrs. Rose Stager, 826 Chestnut street, Nutley, N. J.

MRS. ROSE STAGER
while talking recently with The Plant Juice Man, "Between us, my husband and I have taken 10 bottles of Plant Juice, or five bottles apiece, and it has benefited us so much that we feel like two entirely different people."

"When I started taking Plant Juice I had no appetite and had to be very careful about what I ate. Besides this, my bowels were constipated; liver and kidneys were inactive and I was troubled with dizzy spells and black spots would float before my eyes. And also, I was suffering badly from rheumatism. In fact, the joints of my fingers were swollen to almost twice their natural size. I did not sleep right; was weak and run down, had no energy and any exertion would just play me out."

"But I will say that the five bottles of Plant Juice which I have taken have changed all these conditions. My appetite has returned and I enjoy my meals. And my bowels are regular; liver and kidneys work fine and I do not have the biliousness, black spots before my eyes and dizziness anymore. The rheumatic pains have left my hand and the swelling in the joints of the fingers is greatly reduced, in fact, the joints are almost normal. I sleep better; have more energy and ambition and feel better and stronger in general."

"And Plant Juice also did my husband a world of good. We both simply have the utmost confidence in Plant Juice and can conscientiously recommend it to any sufferer."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima by the Hunter drug stores, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne streets and at

70 ELEPHANTS IN INDIAN PARADE

Procession Held in Honor of Visit of Viceroy

LUCKNOW, India -- (Associated Press) -- A stately procession of 70 elephants, all gorgeously decorated with ornamental bowdahs and trappings, was one of the chief features of the viceroy's recent visit to this city. British and Indian troops lined the decorated streets as Lord Reading and the countess passed thru the city.

The visit to Lucknow was part of an official and extensive tour of British India, and was marked by the holding of a viceroyal durbar in which Lord Reading greeted the notable citizens of the province in a ceremonial manner in keeping with traditions which reach back to the early days of Indian rulers.

In his address on this occasion the viceroy expressed sympathy with the victims of recent floods and gave a brief survey of the national political situation, emphasizing the new responsibilities which have been laid upon the Indian people. He spoke in part as follows:

"It is with deep regret that I have heard of the serious communal disturbances which have recently occurred in several places in the province. It is my earnest prayer that these differences may be composed. The effect of communal division is not confined to the suffering and disaster it produces in the area where it is manifest, its malign influence has a wider import. It stifles all hopes of political progress among the people. It saps the forces of national life, for it tends to deny the existence of a common public weal or of common 'guru' in cooperation for a single purpose."

The age of tutelage has passed. Its place has been taken by an age of test. To India has been granted a wide measure of new liberties, of new opportunities, of new dignities and of new obligations. Her feet are set on the road which leads to full representative government, and to the high destiny awaiting her in the Empire. May the people of India work together to make her progress easy."

LIMA BEANE'S OPEN LETTERS

To Mayor Moyer

DEAR EARL: From interurban car conductor to mayor of your city might seem like a big jump to some folks, but you have negotiated the distance and now are the official mayor of my flourishing municipality. I congratulate you.

As chairman of my city commission you have no more authority than any other member of the board I understand, but you serve as mayor at functions where a mayor ordinarily would act. It is a distinct honor and one I am glad your colleagues conferred upon you.

You have many ideas which, if adopted, should be of value to my city. I am expecting you and the other four men who compose the commission to do great things in 1921 and 1922 and I sincerely hope you manage affairs in such a manner that you will get a flying start.

I wish you all the best of luck in the big undertaking you have before you and I am certain my people will be glad to assist you in any way possible.

LIMA BEANE

To the New Year

MY YOUNG FRIEND: You are only four days old, yet the wise ones are predicting much for you. They see a rosy life for you and I sincerely hope they are correct. You will be afflicted with the presidential marathon, but that should not prove fatal, in fact it may work to your advantage. You are getting a good start and I'm banking on you to keep up the pace.

LIMA BEANE

To the Weather Man

OLD TOP: Now you're getting down to business. We all appreciate seasonable weather and that's something you have not been dealing out. Give us winter when we should have it so we can enjoy springtime when it is due to arrive.

LIMA BEANE

To City Manager Bingham

DEAR BING: I read that you are attempting to finance my city for the present year without the aid of direct taxes. If you can do this, my hat is off to you. We have enough taxes as it is without adding extra burdens. I would not be for a wheel tax or a sales tax or a gasoline tax. If we have to have any at all, I would prefer the occupational tax since I would consider it more equitable.

If you stay as city manager, I hope you will be able to tide us over another twelve months. If you leave, try to give the boys a few tips that will be of assistance to them before you go.

LIMA BEANE

To Delphos Officials

DEAR NEIGHBORS: I have read something about your mayor-police chief squabble and regret that it has been started. I remember one I had not so long ago and the bad taste still lingers.

LIMA BEANE

To Miss Mabel Normand

DEAR MABEL: While I have never met you personally, I have seen you so often on the cinema screen that I feel I know you. I regret to note that you are involved in another movie scandal. When you were intioned in connection with a former one, I thought perhaps it would be a lesson. And here you are all over the first page again.

Some of the movie folk have found to their regret that they can't tamper with the public's opinion forever and get by. I hope this will not be the case with you.

LIMA BEANE

To All Good Resolvers

FRIENDS: To you whose resolutions have been kept for four days I would bid you to be of good cheer. Stick to it. If those resolutions were worth making and worth keeping thus far, they are worth continued effort. Next Dec. 31 I'd like to congratulate you on a year of keeping the faith with those resolutions and incidentally with yourself.

LIMA BEANE

To My Elks Lodge

DEAR BOYS: I presume you are making great preparations for the big bowling tournament that will be held at your club next month. I congratulate you upon obtaining this attraction for my city since it will bring bowlers here from every part of the United States.

I can't hope to compete with Chicago and Cleveland in the matter of national conventions, but I do pride myself on the fact that there has never been a delegation that went away to knock my town. You are a live bunch and will show the visitors all the hospitality for which Lima is noted, I have no doubt.

LIMA BEANE

To County Surveyor Smith

DEAR ED: I congratulate you on the efficient showing made in the first four months of your term. In the short time you have put the roads of the county in excellent shape for the winter. Trained men have been selected to assist you, all of whom are well acquainted with their duties.

LIMA BEANE

To Hesitating Young Men

BOYS: Don't put off that proposal just because it's leap year. I am afraid some of you are afraid to propose for fear I'll think that just because it's leap year the girl popped the question. Go ahead and pop it. I may kid you a little but pay no attention to me. I'll tell you in advance that I don't believe the girls pay any more attention to leap year than the farmer does to the groundhog of Feb. 2.

LIMA BEANE

To Congressman Cable

DEAR JOHN: You favor deporting alien bootleggers, I am informed. That might be a good idea, but what about our own leggers. If we were to ship 'em all out, there wouldn't be nearly so many to vote for you for governor next fall.

LIMA BEANE

To Property Owners

DEAR FRIENDS: The first real snow of the winter is here. I saw many of you out bright and early yesterday morning sweeping it off the sidewalks. But I had to walk thru it in front of many of your places. Remember the pilgrimage to the police station last winter? I would hate to see a repetition of it this winter.

'ROUND LIMA HOUR BY HOUR

WITH APOLOGIES

BY OH. OH. JACKENRIM

A Page from the Diary of an Anti-Quoted Reporter: Up, very betimes, and skidded over a sheet carpet, to the shoppe. Second weekday of the New Year. Happy and brave. With the seers, and sooth-sayers saying General Prosperity will be in command in 1924. Wonderful, if true.

At my stud, betimes. Greetings by mail, from Col. E. Ritzler, the cinema king. Now another movie star caused a shooting bee. Sullen-faced, almost as murderous as hooch.

Round the publick square, and thither to a money. And in discourse with Miss George S. Viceray. On the vagaries of our climate. She very partial to San Diego, methot. Mary in the moon, putting in, and few taking out. There goes Lima new mayor, the Hon. Earl C. Moyer. And here comes the next city manager. Sh—, ruh secret.

Came several persons of import. The discourse was on various things, municipal. Saw Glenn Wallace, the county official, and Edwin Blank, the barrister, and great commoner. Now comes the melancholy days of the year. Albeit, every poste brings its Christmas remembrance.

Lunched, with my family, on potato soup, and pickles. Thence to Jimmie's. His hours and my loafing periods not allocated properly. Along the sleety paves, stopping to watch a Putolene park, when all but knocked down by one of Charlie Black's Chev-tolets. The coal men busy, yet no coke moving. Men carrying parcels, Proving clearance sales are their hobby, as well.

In the afternoon, cast up the kitchen accounts and they in good balance. The long side was matches and an extra can of Dutch Cleanser. Whatever became of former Chief Jack Stockton, who joined Abe Harvis in the steel business? In the closing days of the nineteenth century, I'll ask Mack Colt, who knew him well.

If you are a depoter in both, it's great fun now to write a check against the American and cash it at The First. Then deposit it at the American, and do likewise next day. Until the morn. It makes you feel rich. M'sieur Wohlgemuth, the great merchant, and Tiffany Hughes, the diamond dealer.

Dined on the Turk, done into cozy sandwiches. The dressing now all away. We have the soup tomorrow, methinks. Played a while on my mandolin, but very rusty.

Then picked up an English taylor about small town inns. And getting out old stuff with the dust on. Falling sound asleep, dreamed I was riding a bike in Yorkshire.

So over a beaker of double cream and top of bottle, early to bed.

THE SLAVES OF INDUSTRY

(Ain't What They Used to Be.) A large shoe and leather manufacturing corporation employing some 16,000 workers provides free medical service for its employees, employing for this purpose a staff of 27 full-time physicians, including a general surgeon, a refractologist, two nose and throat physicians and one child specialist; also three full-time dentists, two pharmacists, one masseur, an X-ray technician, 61 trained nurses and sundry clerks and other attendants. The annual salaries of doctors, nurses and attendants amount to $198,500, and outside nurses, doctors, hospitals and sanitaria are paid about $120,000 a year. The item of drugs and supplies amounts to $57,000 and upkeep of buildings and automobiles about $25,000 a year; making a total cost of $395,500 per annum, or approximately $25 a year for each worker.

In the medical service worth the price?

Except a maternity hospital, where the workmen can have his babies delivered in good order, and a house equipped for nose and throat operations, and an isolation hospital held in readiness for anthrax cases, the corporation obtains all hospital service from local, public and private hospitals and pays at regular rates for this service. But two ambulances, each with two attendants are on call day or night; these ambulances make about 5,000 calls annually. The workers average five office calls a year—90,000 office calls were made last year. Count that in with the ambulance ride nearly every third worker enjoys each year. Eight hundred patients used the maternity service, receiving premature care and everything, and it didn't cost father a red cent, in cash. The corporation even furnished all supplies, including a pair of shoes for the child.

The chief of the medical service declares that the workers are happy and contented; they receive adequate care from doctors; they are not forced to consult imposters nor to squander their money on nostrums; they are not impoverished by the advent of illness; they have no occasion to skip to Canada when a new baby arrives; they are not a burden on charitable institutions of the community; they produce more finished material per worker than any similar group; they have had no quarrel or differences with their employer about working conditions.

Still this is all paternalism. The salaries of the doctors, dentists, nurses and other experts average $2,300. If the nurses, pharmacists, dentists and other experts would kindly contribute their services just for the happiness of making others happy, there'd be enough in the doctor's salary fund to pay each doctor about $7,000 a year, which would be more like a living wage. And they must have good doctors on the staff, for the shoes turned out by the concern are certainly good honest shoes.

THIS LITTLE WORLD

LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES. (special) — This community of homes is split into two hostile camps over the serious business of jazz dancing. It began when Doc Montgomery, the new police commissioner, stopped the expensive ball of the Motion Picture Directors' Association at the exclusive Biltmore Hotel on the stroke of midnight.

An ancient city ordinance was invoked for the purpose. Headed by Fred Nible, a sardonic equation in the correct mathematics of Hollywood, the movie directors have begun a movement for the recall of Doc Montgomery, who wears this title because he was formerly a Presbyterian clergyman. During his days as a youth he even hint at a pair of roller skates for Mayor Clegg, who appointed the doc as social mentor.

Irony! It warmly caresses the spirit of those few who comprehend the ballet staged by Theodore Kosloff, a former member of the Imperial Russian ballet, now working in the movies. Kosloff has taken a group of American girls and boys, whose parents idle in Pops and drawl out comments on the rates of sales—he has taken a group like this and trained them in the technique of the classic ballet. Their performance gives rise to an insane hope for a native American ballet. There is no question now about having the talent in this country. All we need is the audience.

The press agents at the Goldwyn studio held a three-day conference recently sitting the numerous schemes suggested for properly exploiting that gripping celluloid

A Thought

Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom; and with it get understanding. Prov. 4:7.

But whether the strain you are in daily life, Is the prime wisdom—Milton.

And the man which you see in your looking glass, And the man which you follow is the man you have willed to be.

FIRE-TONGUE

BY SAX ROHMER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Paul Harley, of the Hillside, was to give for him the news of his wife's being shadowed by a mysterious woman. While Harley was driving out to Hillside, and Nalda was in his car, he was a definite figure. His last word, uttered by Hillside, was "Nicol Brinn, the Fire Tongue." Harley was a man of experience, meaning of life, and he had no secret to disclose to the secret. W. Harley is below the age of 30, and is a very good-looking man, of medium height. Nalda's eyes are on the man, and she is very fond of him.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Very cautiously, with his eyes closed, he was retracing his steps through the lane, and walking back to the place where he had left the crowd. All the time he was about him to right and left. He was looking for a temporary refuge, for the car, but one from which, it seemed, he could depart in safety. The bell of an ancient lamp, now silent and desolate, presently invited inspection and, as a result, a few moments later Colonel Lord Welvicham, luxurious but motionless, was found for the night in the strange quiet.

When Nicol Brinn returned to Hillside he found the garage locked and the lights extinguished.

He rolled his cigar from corner to corner of his mouth, staring reflectively with his blue eyes at the silent house before him. In the moonlight it made a peaceful picture enough. A cautious tour of the place revealed a lighted window upon the first floor. Standing in the shadow of an old apple tree, Nicol Brinn watched the blind of this window minute after minute, patiently waiting for a shadow to appear upon it, and at last his patience was rewarded.

A shadow appeared—the shadow of a woman!

Nicol Brinn dropped his cigar at his feet and set his heel upon it. A bitter sweet memory which had been with him for seven years was again in his mind. There is a kind of mountain owl in certain parts of Northern India which possesses a curiously high-pitched note. He wondered if he could remember and reproduce that note.

He made the attempt, repeating the note three times. At the third repetition the lights in the first floor window went out. He heard the sound of a window gently opened. Then a voice—a voice which had the sweetest music in the world for the man who listened below—spoke softly.

"Nicol!"

"Nalda!" he called. "Come down to me. You must. Don't answer. I will wait here."

"Promise you will let me return?"

He hesitated.

"Promise!"

"I promise."

CHAPTER XXIX*The Catastrophe

The first faint spears of morning were troping through the trees which surrounded Hillside, revealed two figures upon a rustic bench in the little orchard adjoining the house. A pair of nervous enough—this dark-eyed Eastern woman, wrapped in a long fur cloak, and Nicol Brinn, vaunt unshaven, tattered in his evening dress, seated now in the gray morning light.

"Look!" whispered Nalda. "It is the dawn. I must go."

Nicol Brinn clenched his teeth tightly but made no reply.

"You promised," she said and all her voice was very tender as she strove to detach his arm, which was locked about her shoulders.

He nodded grimly.

"I'll keep my word. I made a contract with hell with my eyes open, and I'll stick to it." He stood up suddenly. "Go back, Nalda!" he said. "Go back! You have my promise now, and I am helpless. But at last I see a way, and I'm going to take it."

"What do you mean?" she cried, standing up and clutching his arm.

"Never mind, her voice was cool again. "Just go back."

"You would not—she began

(By Gertrude Gilliland)

MARILIA MANSEFIELD has the leading role in "The Silver Command," which opens Saturday at the Lima theatre. This is the first picture in which she went to her tragic death which caused a month ago from burns received when an electric cord accidentally dropped a lighted match on her while she was on deck while San Antonio, Texas.

This screen drama from some-thing new in the way of thrillers was adapted from the story by E. G. Ford. Gordon Edwards is the director. The combined skill of these two motion picture experts has been centered on this picture and much of story with vigor and novelty of treatment that it is said will insure its flattering reception by the mass of picturegoers.

The story tells of the romance between Marilie, a young naval officer, and Dolores, the daughter of Ambrose Mandibull. With the customary action of a Latin lover, Ambrose Mandibull, who to all the world is his daughter, is carefully guarded by an able chaplain even when attending an official ball held at the Pan-American building. But the bold sailor officer will not be scared off by a mere chaplain and he comes to the dances with the charming Dolores.

The love affair between these young persons furnishes several of the lighter moments of the picture. The part of the naval officer is played by Gordon McEwan.

Fox News and a comedy will precede the picture.

"Flaming Youth" Coming

FLAGMAN, a new version of Warner Oland's daring story of reckless, unconventional youth comes to the Sigma theatre next week for an engagement of five days.

Colleen Moore is to be seen in the featured role as Patricia Lennox, the youngest little dogger of a jazz doll who flits from one love affair to another and all but has her wings singed until her final awakening.

As a book "Flaming Youth" has been one of the most talked-of pieces of fiction of recent year, and a photoplay is heralded as an even greater sensation.

Myrtle Stedman, playing the indulgent mother, is to be ideally cast, as are also Milton S. Ellis, Elliot Dexter, Sylvia Breamer, Betty Friend, Walter McGrail and the other members of the all-star cast.

The production was made under the direction of John Francis Dillon.

WOMAN CHARGES HUSBAND SLAPPED, THEN BEAT HER

OLIMA—Colleen Moore, in a story that she had left home from another man, greeted Mrs. Mary Alice Dangler when she went home to visit her parents, according to allegations made Saturday in a petition filed before Justice Alva J. Davis, at the Franklin Common Pleas court.

Dangler resides in Toledo and Mrs. Dangler is Continental. They were married in April 1941, and have two children.

For a year all was happy. Mrs. Dangler relates. Then he just began to slap her, she says. This was followed by curses and obscen language, the natural result of the petition says. Dangler, who is a pessimistic woman, with her wife's ravishing black and blue marks upon her body.

To enforce his wishes Mrs. Dangler said he procured a gun and threatened to shoot her. She suffered a nervous breakdown as a result of his actions, she swore, causing her to leave him on Jan. 17. She took a station of her maid in name of May Alice Hart.

HIRAM HAMMERS ADMINISTRATION

Opens Campaign for Presidency
With Speech at Cleveland

HALL CROWDED TO CAPACITY

Past and Proposed Policies Are Attacked by Senator

CLEVELAND — (Associated Press) — Senator Hiram W. Johnson, candidate for the Republican nomination to the presidency, prepared today to receive a few delegations from Ohio and probably from other states. It was planned to form a permanent state campaign organization and to appoint a manager for Ohio.

"We're going to build up a righting organization that will keep them cropping," Frank H. Hitchcock, the Californian's national campaign manager, declared.

Senator Johnson and Hitchcock expect to leave today for Chicago, where definite plans will be made for Johnson's tour of the country during the next month or two.

Senator Johnson was immensely pleased with the crowd which greeted him for his address, which opened the campaign last night. The hall was crowded to capacity and thousands of persons had to be turned away.

In his address Johnson attacked the administration for its past and proposed policies. He proposed a soldier's bonus "out of the $350,000,000 now in the United States treasury" and made it plain that besides the soldier's bonus, his campaign issues would include tax reductions especially income tax, relief for farmers, the world court, League of Nations; the administration's attitude toward shipment of arms to Mexico, the administration's foreign policy, and apportionment of Southern delegates to the national convention.

JOINT FUNERAL IS PLAN FOR ACCIDENT VICTIMS

Joint funeral services in Lima are being planned for the four victims of Wednesday's grade crossing accident at Huntsville.

In the crash of a Big Four passenger train and an automobile, Ernest Herron, driver of the car, his wife, his mother, Mrs. W. G. Herron and his daughter, Louise, lost their lives.

The body of Mrs. W. G. Herron is now at her home in Columbus Grove where her husband, overcome by shock of the tragedy, is in such serious condition he may not recover.

Under the proposed funeral arrangements all four bodies will be brought here for one service, with interment to be made in Woodlawn cemetery.

Mrs. Ray Flitz, of N. Elizabeth, Lima, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mart Williams, of Harrod.

Lafayette High School is to play Kenton High there on Saturday night.

Long, Cold Ride Is All They Had For Their Work

Deputy Sheriffs Ostun and Smith were foiled the other day when they attempted to attach farm property of I. Foggin, farmer near West Newton, on strength of a judgment in favor of J. H. Say and L. O. Evans.

The two deputies reached the farm as the tools and stock were being sold at auction.

"Stop the sale in the name of the law," commanded the officers. "Let's see the papers," demanded the auctioneer.

The papers were shown.

"You're out of luck," the man told them.

"This writ was issued in Allen Co. while the goods are in Hardin Co."

It was true the officers found. The county line is some distance west of the farm. Balked, the deputies returned to Lima.

It was a cold drive, both ways, they reported.

SECRET OF HAPPINESS

The greatest menace on earth to happiness is the ill health with which so many women are afflicted. The young woman is subject to pain and irregularities, the mother to the tortures of displacements with consequent pains, aches and nervousness—the middle aged woman to the uncomfortable conditions caused by this critical age. The one remedy to control these conditions and restore the system to a normal healthy condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for fifty years has been restoring sick and ailing women to health and happiness.—Adv.

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Selling orders again pre-dominant at the irregular opening of today's stock market with pressure exerted against the oils, motors and independent steels. Motors dropped 2 points and Producers and Refiners 1 1/4. Marine preferred advanced one point in reflection of the reported increase in shipping rates.

Most of the standard industrials moved fractionally to selling pressure, a fair demand was noted for a number of the tobacco, public utility, motor accessory and merchandising issues. American Summa and Toledo preferred jumped ten cents and gains of 1 to 2 points were recorded by Tobacco Products, U. S. Realty, Congoleum and American Laundry. When the overnight decline orders had been disposed of the market showed a tendency to settle. Early losses of a point or more were recorded by Jones Brothers, the United States Steel and Iron products. Foreign exchanges opened lower. French francs sinking to another new record low.

Bring of numerous industrial issues based on individual trade condition, a carried the general list upward again during the morning but there was little alteration in the prices of the customary leaders. The principal gains were recorded by ordinarily inactive issues, General Electric rising 1 1/2 points and American Standard and Lorillard Tobaccos, Marine preferred, American Brake shoe and Treadwell and Fisher Body selling 2 to 3 points above yesterday's closing levels. Chemical and fertilizer issues were a good demonstration of group strength. Interim heaviness was noted in the independent steels, Corn Products and Chandler Motors. Call oil advanced one point at 4 1/2 per cent.

RECESS IS TAKEN BY CONGRESS

Solons Adjourn Till Monday With Senate Still Deadlocked

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — With congress in recess until Monday, senate and house committee members today shook off the holiday spirit and set about the business of preparing the measures that will occupy the two chambers from now until adjournment.

The house ways and means committee continued its study of the revenue features of the Mellon tax reduction bill today and the rate committee was called into session to discuss amendments to the rates advanced by the insurgent Republican group. Both expect to present recommendations within ten days of two weeks and meanwhile the house will receive some of the usual supply bills, the first of which, carrying appropriations for the interior department, is to be reported Friday.

The senate foreign relations committee today took up the resolution of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, calling for recognition of the Russian Soviet government, and Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader and chairman of the committee, is preparing to address the senate Monday on the same subject. A resolution adopted yesterday providing for investigation of the election of Senator Mayfield, Democrat, Texas, also will receive early consideration.

The senate is still deadlocked over election of chairman of the interstate commerce committee.
